Explaining Corporate Worship

Invocation: As we gather to worship God, we, His church, call upon Him to serve us from heaven

Votum: Our covenant Lord responds through the Trinitarian blessing of his ordained ambassador

Confession of Faith: We confess to God and to each other our common faith in the Lord Jesus Christ

Singing doxology: We sing praise to our Triune God for His blessing of salvation to us

Reading of the law: God speaks to us in His moral law to reveal our sin so that we convicted and humbled, and turn to our heavenly Father in faith, confessing our sins

Prayer of confession: We confess to God how we have sinned against Him in thought, word and deed - in that which we have done and that which we have left undone

Assurance of pardon: Through the means of his ordained minister, God declares to those who truly repent and look to Christ alone for salvation that they can be assured of the forgiveness of their sins

Prayer of illumination: The minister prays on behalf of the congregation that God's Word would be made effectual unto salvation by Christ through his Spirit

Sermon: Christ addressing us from heaven through the power of his Spirit with words of life and death

Offering: Out of gratitude for the gift of Christ, we give of our finances for those in need and for support of the ongoing ministry of the church.

Benediction: God sends us forth with his blessing in Christ.

Where does justifying faith come from? "The Holy Spirit produces it in our hearts by the preaching of the gospel, and confirms it through our use of the holy sacraments."

(Heidelberg Catechism Q/A 65; cf. Jn 3:5, Rom. 10:17, Matt. 28:19-20, 1 Cor. 10:16)
