For your meditation this Lord's Day:

"[Our confessional Reformed tradition] marks the beginning of Christian experience typically with infant baptism and the notion that believers inherit the faith of their parents and the larger Christian community. This does not mean that conversion of adolescents or adults is prohibited but only that the experience of children who grow up in the church and learn the ways of the community of faith is the norm for Christian life rather than one that makes the radical change of conversion the paradigm of faith" (Darryl Hart).
